AGU Japanese Culture Box

About Aoyama Gakuin University

Aoyama Gakuin University (AGU), part of Aoyama Gakuin School Corporation, was founded in 1874 by missionaries sent to Japan by the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States. It is one of the oldest schools in Japan with over 145 years of history.

AGU has 2 campuses. The Aoyama Campus is located in the “Shibuya, Aoyama Area”, a hub for culture, information, and trends. The campus consists of Kindergarten, Elementary School, Junior and Senior High School, as well as University and graduate schools.

In addition, The Sagami-hara Campus offers an open and attractive environment with lush greenery, where research is carried out on advanced technology.

AGU has 11 undergraduate schools and 11 graduate schools. The school is highly rated in Japan and ranks high for “Fashionable”, “Free”, “Cheerfulness”, “Popular with high school students” and “Has name recognition”.

Introduction of "AGU Japanese Culture Box"

AGU Japanese Culture Box is a video distribution service that delivers content on various topics, from Japanese general culture to subculture, and allows users to watch it free of charge, with a view to getting people interested in Japan and Japanese culture. The content is available for any student enrolled in an overseas university that is a partner of Aoyama Gakuin University.

There are two types of content provided.

- 1 | Videos of some of the topics included in the Japanese culture-related classes offered in English at our school.
- 2 | Movies provided by companies and individuals who endorsed the purpose of this program as "culture unique to Japan"

You can learn at your own pace, regardless of time or place. Interaction is possible with the instructors through questions and impressions of the videos. Please make an application!
